

WITH REVISED TITLE AND CONTENTS

MAKING OF CORRUPTION FREE INDIA
AFTER 75 YEARS

(Preamble of the study project due to be published soon)

During national agitation for 'India against corruption', an article by me on this subject then titled 'Corruption & Lokpal Bill' was published on 19 November, 2011 in a local weekly 'Garhwal Post' in Dehradun. Since then corruption has increased manifold. Today politicians, bureaucrats and others are being reported/arrested on a daily basis under MLPA and for holding unaccounted money/ wealth running into crores of rupees. Now even the bank and treasury officers have been arrested for pocketing public money including misappropriation of public funds without any fear. In other words demonetization and Lokpal has neither helped to check growth of black money nor corruption.

The one point agenda i.e. passing of Lok Pal Bill will neither eradicate nor reduce corruption in India. In a country of India's size with population over 140 crore living in 35 states/union territories governed by different political parties who are totally independent to manage the affairs in their respective states, it will be difficult to put up a united front to eradicate corruption when no one government is free from corruption. Therefore, the present exercise to enact Lok Pal and Lok Ayukta bill and appointment thereafter has so far not given any positive results. In fact, the offices of Lok Pal and Lok Ayukta are becoming a parallel center of governance with additional burden on the state exchequer.

The issue of corruption is being raised to malign the ruling party both at the center and states by the opposition parties only to gain political advantage during election and not for eradication of corruption. Whether the Prime Minister and the Judiciary is brought under Lok Pal or not, will not solve the problem of day to day corruption faced by the ordinary citizens of the country. Number of cases involving middle and lower level government employees are regularly caught and reported with unaccounted money and wealth running into crores of rupees which should be the main issue for those interested to eradicate corruption in the country.

It is often forgotten that 73 per cent of India's population continue to live in villages located in varying agroclimatic conditions where they have been practicing fair and co-operative means for their livelihood and survival from time immemorial. It is only the 20 per cent of the 27 per cent population (the lower middle class) mostly living or working in urban or semi urban areas who are facing the brunt of corruption in public services on the one hand and uncertain opportunities in employment, wages and inflation on the other. The political organizations give more importance to community interest and linguistic brotherhood rather than national interest or supremacy of law of the land. Obviously, corruption is not an important issue for many organizations and political parties. Rural population in each state has their own occupational and cultural practices who are now facing the problems created by new culture of corruption spreading in rural/tribal areas due to urbanization and increasing role being played by the Government to implement welfare and rural development program in the country.

Over a period, we have innovated various forms of corruption in the country. There are ordinary cases of bribery or collusive bribery where the bribe giver and bribe taker together take advantage and deprive the honest citizens of their fundamental rights. The other forms of corruption adopted by the so called literate and the rich people are: income tax evasion by collusion, managing government work orders including advertisements and execution of sub-standard works, corruption by government officials while buying goods and services (public procurement), illegal exploitation of natural resources like mining, forest, production of spurious drug / food injurious to health and violation of safety norms to earn fast and easy money. The most important issue that is being over looked is the corruption within government machinery. Bribery for recruitment, payment of salary, posting, promotions/appointments and payment of dues at the time of retirement. Therefore, the problem can be addressed only by undertaking necessary administrative and legal reforms to check corruption in each sector and departments of the government at various level.

However, administrative and legal reforms should aim at strengthening existing law enforcement authorities vertically from top to bottom. The existing authorities and law include Controller General of Accounts (CGA), Comptroller and Auditor General of Accounts of India , Central Vigilance Commission (CVC), Central Bureau of Investigation(CBI), Prevention of Corruption Act,1988 and Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) etc. which are good enough to check corruption at all level involving multiple authorities and departments of the government such as CWG and Adarsh building society scam etc. Corruption can also be checked if prompt action is taken under existing Prevention of Corruption Act which includes (a) public servant taking gratification other than legal remuneration in respect of official act (b) taking gratification by corrupt or illegal means in order to influence public servants (c) taking gratification for exercise of personnel influence with public servants.

Similarly, corruption in delivery of public services by various departments/agencies of Central/State government can be checked by strengthening and enforcing Civil Service Conduct rules/Classification Control and Appeal (CCA) rules etc. already in existence. Unfortunately, rules are there in the statutory books and amended from time to time but not updated and honestly enforced to regulate the conduct of government employees. Since government employees themselves remain ignorant of Service rules, the number of court cases between government employees and the government continue to rise in various tribunal and courts in the country. Hence, day to day corruption in public services is overlooked and delivery of public services is either delayed or denied till such time one is willing to grease the palm of service providers.

Beside strengthening existing laws, corruption can be checked by simply making each head of office, exercising administrative powers, directly responsible to check corruption in his own office and subordinate offices under his control. The head of the office should either take action against the employees indulging in corrupt practices or report the matter directly to anti-corruption department/ vigilance authorities of the state for further action. If head of the office fails to do his duty, then action can be taken against Head of the office under civil service conduct rules which can also be amended accordingly.

The scope and form of corruption vary from department to department and profession to profession and therefore needs different regulating mechanism in each department or profession. This can be done by the existing Ministry of Personnel by undertaking reforms of all anti-corruption agencies including departmental vigilance organizations responsible for prevention of corruption. The people are generally ignorant of existing mechanism such as internal audit of accounts, vigilance wing under each department and police vigilance who can be made more effective and accountable after necessary reforms. This could check corruption at the lowest level and provide immediate relief to poor and helpless people living both in urban and rural India.

Now, that the issue of corruption has come to center stage, it will not die till such time concrete steps are taken to eradicate corruption in all walks of life which may take at least 5-10 years. How best this can be done systematically without disturbing political stability, national security, day to day public administration, existing legal system and development of the country- is the key question before the government and civil society which are proposed to be studied in-depth in this comprehensive research study project which has been undertaken by Central Himalayan Institute to make corruption free India for the welfare of the people. There is a need to identify the existing weaknesses in political, economic and civic governance which failed to check high level corruption within government machinery and find long lasting solutions to improve governance to make corruption free India through administrative and legal reforms.

The aim of corruption free welfare state like India should be that the citizens are well aware of their fundamental rights, duties on the one hand and are given equal opportunity to progress depending upon their knowledge and skills in their profession irrespective of the caste, color, creed or religion. At the same time corruption free country also means that deprived section of the society and those living below the poverty line including disabled are not exploited in any manner by those in power or living above the poverty line and are given adequate security in terms of job, food, shelter, medical facilities and education without discrimination or bribe. This will be possible only when honest, dedicated and committed civil servants are deployed to deliver the public services at the lowest level both in urban and rural areas.

No comprehensive study as such has been carried out so far with particular reference to corruption in India. The issue has now drawn the attention of all countries in the world after the study was conducted by Transparency International in 2005 and recorded that more than 62% of Indians had at some point or another paid a bribe to a public official to get a job done. In 2008, another report showed that about 50% of Indians had first hand experience of paying bribes or using contacts to get services performed by public offices. However, in 2020 their Corruption Perceptions Index ranked the country 86th out of 180, reflecting steady decline in perception of corruption among people. Transparency International report broadly recorded various factors which contribute to be the reasons for corruption in India. Major corruption cases reported in the media included Indians stashing millions of rupees in Swiss Banks and Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) having accepted that undeclared assets of Rs.20,078 crore have been identified by their office in India and abroad following the investigation till June 2021.

Transparency International also briefly recorded the causes of corruption in India. However, comparatively a more comprehensive study could be seen in a report titled "Corruption, causes and consequences" by Stefan Sumah (chapter-5 <http://dx.doi.org/10.5772/intechopen.72953> refers) which deals with the corruption in the world since time immemorial. According to Stefan Sumah, studies carried out by various international bodies like World Bank Institutes, European Commission and United Nations are mainly the analyses of the effects of corruption on various economic indicators, such as GDP growth, investments, employment, tax revenues, foreign investment or the study of various forms of corruption in relation to politics, economic environment, social conditions and various manifestations. The author also stated that the causes of corruption will differ from country to country. His study report also recorded that the most commonly mentioned factors that influence the development of corruption are: political and economic environment, professional ethics and legislation, as well as ethnological factors, such as custom, habits and traditions.

This study project has been formulated keeping in view all aspects of political, economic and civic governance which will be studied in depth for necessary reform to realize the dream of making of corruption free India in the near future. People have more or less accepted the corruption as part of life which is not a good sign for the future of any country. If not checked now, it can even break the unity of the country and end parliamentary democracy. The symptoms are clearly visible. The people are seen taking law into their own hand and force the government agencies accept their demand or entitlement which is denied to them under the existing laws due to corruption and inefficiency in the concerned department. Government machinery fails to spot the corrupt practices within the government departments due to poor quality of civic governance, vigilance and action is only taken when the matter is reported in the media.

It should be a matter of concern that mostly the educated, rich and responsible people inside as well as outside the government machinery are found to be indulging in high level corruption today. Once the corruption cases are exposed, the rich people manage to employ experienced advocates to defend themselves and may even get acquitted after long drawn legal battle. The rest of the population remains neglected who have no choice but to bribe at various level to get all kinds of legal entitlements. The resolution was passed by Parliament some years ago i.e. (a) every government department adopt a citizens charter which will ensure time bound rendering of public services (b) Lok Ayukta to be set up on the lines of Lok Pal and (c) the lower bureaucracy be made accountable to the citizens through Lok Pal or any other mechanism. So far no visible impact could be seen on the ground.

Briefly, the study project will examine the existing status of political, economic and civic governance in India today and its ability or inability to ensure corruption free governance for the development of the country on the one hand and welfare of the people and delivery of public services in urban/rural areas on the other hand with a view to keep every body at least above poverty line and maintain human development index at the required level. It is also proposed to test the following hypotheses during the course of this research study project and draw conclusions accordingly. (a) How and when 'truth' will triumph? (b) Is India presently or forever lost in political squabbles? (c) Does power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely? (d) Can we ensure corruption free governance, economic growth and welfare of the people in a democratic country like India? Beside historical background, existing organizational set up and the level of corruption in each sector/ department of the government will be examined after documenting the exact mode of corruption with examples and the reasons will be identified to suggest structural, functional, legal and administrative reform with particular reference to recruitment of manpower, deployment, training facilities, service conditions, pay and allowances of the employees to ensure corruption free functioning of the government department to deliver public services efficiently in national interest.

Further it is also necessary to examine the present status of existing agencies/ laws/mechanism and judiciary and suggest required action plan towards capacity building to reduce corruption in all walks of life. Similarly lawlessness, policing and corruption in India will be examined and necessary police reform will be suggested to eradicate corruption. It is equally important that existing laws and mechanism are in place to protect law abiding citizens from corruption. In case of disaster of any kind, the ordinary people have to pay the price. It is, therefore, necessary that well organized and trained manpower is always available to care for the people affected by any kind of disaster. Finally it is the human resource of any country who need to be given best possible citizenship education so that they can become independent and responsible citizens and contribute together as part of civil society and make India least corrupt like many other countries in the world.

While the bigger scams take time to reach final conclusion, the high level administrative and universal corruption can be dealt with speed through fast track court to produce its impact instantly in the society. Appointment of Lok Pal or Lok Ayukta by itself is not going to solve the problem of corruption. Lok Pal/ Lok Ayukta or CVC may be necessary at district / regional/state and national level who should not only be responsible to deal with complaint about corruption but also take action to prevent corruption by constant vigilance and issue advisory in advance to the concerned authorities for necessary administrative action before actual corruption is allowed to take place.

There is a need to identify all corruption cases decided by various courts during last ten years, status of cases under trial in various courts and status of cases under investigations. This will help Government and all other organizations including media to adopt more constructive approach to eradicate corruption in India. Lastly but not the least corruption in the Armed and Para Military forces and law enforcement authorities, who are responsible for national and internal security, should not be accepted at any cost. Therefore, any one found indulging in corrupt or undesirable activities within Armed Forces or law enforcement authorities must be punished promptly and severely in the larger interest of the country. Similarly Armed forces personnel and their family members should be given full protection from corruption in civil society and civil administration which will always remain there in one form or other.

This is the first ever in-depth comprehensive research study project report which has been undertaken to identify deficiency and weaknesses in political, economic and civic governance in India and suggest structural, functional, administrative and legal reforms to eradicate corruption in each sector and department both inside and outside of the government. The outcome of this research study project will help educate the people about the scale and volume of corruption prevailing in the country in all walks of life and to what extent it can harm the very existence of the country in future. Once the people are well informed about the corrupt activities of the people in power- the authorities responsible for good political, economic, civic and corporate governance can be made accountable and answerable. The importance of strict anti corruption laws can be understood in correct perspective and the offenders can be punished severely through the court of law and black listed to hold any public office in future.

REVISED-CONTENTS

Preamble

Part – A

POLITICAL GOVERNANCE AND CORRUPTION IN INDIA

Section-I

WORKING OF INDIAN CONSTITUTION AFTER INDEPENDENCE

1. Historical background
2. Making of Indian constitution
 - 2.1 Preamble
 - 2.2 Fundamental values that shaped India
 - 2.3 Key amendments in the constitution since independence
3. Reform, remedies and Indian constitution
 - 3.1 Freedom of trade and commerce within India
 - 3.2 The executive's law-making power
 - 3.3 States with special status
 - 3.4 Constitutional recognition of languages
 - 3.5 The abolition of titles
 - 3.6 Delimitation of constituencies
 - 3.7 Pendency of cases before constitution bench of the supreme court
4. Constitution and role played by governors and speakers since independence

Section-II

PARLIAMENTARY DEMOCRACY AND GOVERNANCE

1. National scenario as per National Human Development Report-2001
2. Present scenario of parliamentary democracy in India
 - 2.1 Violation of the basic structure of the constitution
 - 2.2 Caste casteism and oppression of ST/SC
 - 2.3 Democracy- preaching and practice
 - 2.4 Parliament opposition and the media
3. Constitution and expectation of the people
 - 3.1 Indian constitution is the source of unity and spirit of India
 - 3.2 Constitution is a product of self governance and dignity
 - 3.3 Role played by the judiciary to ensure good governance as per constitution
 - 3.4 Expectation of the people from political leadership
4. Indian Constitution and working relationship of Central and State government
 - 4.1 Role played by national leadership after independence
 - 4.2 The constitution and features of federal polity
 - 4.3 Weak political alliance and its impact on governance
 - 4.4 Financial disputes between central and state government
5. National issues where federalism has failed to govern effectively
 - 5.1 Tragedies and costs of prohibition
 - 5.2 Inter -State river water disputes
 - 5.3 National commission for women (NCW)
 - 5.4 Reform with or without consultation
 - 5.5 Enforcement of fundamental duties
 - 5.6 The question of national language in a multilingual country
 - 5.7 Smaller states for better governance and development

- 5.8 Feasibility of Uniform Civil Code
- 5.9 Citizenship (Amendment) Act (CAA) and citizenship law
- 6. Importance of free media for healthy and functional democracy
- 7. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 7.1 Federalism and political governance in India
 - 7.2 Examples of different approach to strengthen federalism

Section- III

STATUS OF ELECTORAL POLITICS AND CORRUPTION

- 1. Existing status of electorate and elections
 - 1.1 Voters rights and participation
 - 1.2 Bribery cases and privileges of legislatures
 - 1.3 Qualification and criminalization of politics with money power
- 2. Funds raised by political parties by unfair means
 - 2.1 Preview
 - 2.2 Seizures of unaccounted money during elections
 - 2.3 Election funding after SC struck down electoral bond scheme
- 3. Electoral reforms for free and fair elections in India
 - 3.1 Banning contestant charged with criminal offences
 - 3.2 Corruption cases against politician
 - 3.3 No law to cancel religious name and symbol used by political parties
 - 3.4 Misuse of public funds for false publicity and advertisement
- 4. Model code of conduct and funding of election promises
- 5. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 5.1 Defection after free and fair election
 - 5.2 Corruption and criminality in the political system
 - 5.3 False affidavit by candidates contesting election
 - 5.4 Status of anti-defection law and political corruption
 - 5.5 Disqualification of elected members convicted of an offence
 - 5.6 Necessity of independent election commission of India
 - 5.7 For and against one nation one election

Part – B

ECONOMIC GOVERNANCE DEVELOPMENT AND CORRUPTION

Section -IV

ECONOMIC POLICIES AND DEVELOPMENT OF INDIA

- 1. Economic survey and sustainable development goals
- 2. Economic policies and program
- 3. Inequality and distribution of wealth in India
- 4. Contribution of rural and farm sector in economic development
 - 4.1 Present status of rural economy and farm sector
 - 4.2 Farmers demand and Swaminathan commission report
 - 4.3 Role of government and management of farm sector
 - 4.4 Future prospects and development of farm sector
- 5. Infrastructure and economic development of India
 - 5.1 Role of Indian Railways and economic development
 - 5.2 Power sector and renewable energy for economic development
 - 5.3 Telecom sector and economic development
- 6. Poverty employment opportunities and economic development

- 6.1 Estimating poverty line and multidimensional poverty in India
- 6.2 Poverty and hunger challenge in India
- 6.3 The Job guarantee and direct benefit schemes for the rural poor
- 6.4 Government budget and industrial policy for employment generation
- 6.5 Social justice with growth for eradication of poverty
- 7. Policy decisions taken by GoI to improve human development Index
 - 7.1 Statistics and employment data mechanism
 - 7.2 Accurate audit needed for stability
 - 7.3 Government should be realistic in its budget estimates
 - 7.4 Non-payment of unclaimed dues to legal heirs
- 8. Local bodies and corruption in urban development
 - 8.1 Importance of planned urban development for India
 - 8.2 Planning and execution of new city projects
 - 8.3 Problem of encroachment illegal construction and demolition
 - 8.4 Construction repair and maintenance of roads in urban areas
 - 8.5 Inefficiency and corruption in local bodies
 - 8.6 Delivery of public services by local bodies/municipal corporations
 - 8.7 Administrative reform required for urban development in India
- 9. Corruption in construction of roads, highways and bridges
- 10. Natural resources, violation of laws and economic development
 - 10.1 Over exploitation of degraded land
 - 10.2 Illegal mining and its impact on ecology and environment
 - 10.3 Violation of National Green Tribunal (NGT) Act and illegally felling trees etc.
 - 10.4 Physical and monetary value of natural resources
 - 10.5 Management of water and conservation of water resources
- 11. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 11.1 Economic policies and development
 - 11.2 Status of poor population in India
 - 11.3 Filling data vacuum in the country
 - 11.4 Status of unsecured loans in the bank portfolios
 - 11.5 Neglecting the rural and farm sector
 - 11.6 The status of infrastructure development in India
 - 11.7 Status of local bodies and development
 - 11.8 Status of state level finances and the finance commission

Section-V
TAX EVASION BANKING SERVICES BLACK MONEY
AND CORRUPTION

- 1. Status of tax evasion and money laundering
 - 1.1 Direct taxes and tax evasion
 - 1.2 Indirect taxes and tax evasion
 - 1.3 Common methods used for tax evasion
 - 1.4 Goods and services tax (GST) and tax evasion by bogus firms
 - 1.5 Report by tax justice network
 - 1.6 Prevention of money laundering
 - 1.7 Tax evasion and money laundering cases detected in the recent past
 - 1.8 International laws and economic offences
- 2. Inefficiency and corruption in banking services
 - 2.1 Loan defaulters rising in India

- 2.2 Fraud cheating and loot
 - 2.3 Example of fraud cases and action taken by ED
 - 2.4 Training and performance of bank officers/employees
- 3. Generation of black money and related economic offences
- 3.1 Purpose and impact of demonetization
 - 3.2 Recovery of black money and black money Act
 - 3.3 Status of undisclosed income of Indian in foreign banks
 - 3.4 Violation of Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act (FCRA) by NGO's
 - 3.5 ED's Pandora probe and role played by offshore companies
- 4. Conclusion and recommendations
- 4.1 Separate rights from freebies
 - 4.2 Tax evasion and GST
 - 4.3 Impact of growing economy of India today
 - 4.4 The governance issues faced by banking sector
 - 4.5 Prevention on fraud in loans granted by bank
 - 4.6 Embezzlement of money in government treasuries
 - 4.7 Estimating poverty
 - 4.8 Status of black money
 - 4.9 Illegal occupation of forest and government land
 - 4.10 Urban development and violation of building bye-laws
 - 4.11 Losses suffered by the government due to illicit markets
 - 4.12 Prohibition liquor trafficking and excise Act
 - 4.13 Corruption free economic development of the country

Part – C

CIVIC GOVERNANCE CORRUPTION AND DELIVERY OF PUBLIC SERVICES

Section-VI

PREVIEW OF CORRUPTION IN INDIA AND THE WORLD

- 1. Introduction
- 2. Index of corruption in India and the world
- 3. Universal public corruption in India
- 4. Political approach to deal with corruption
 - 4.1 Perception and prevention of corruption in the world
 - 4.2 Prevention of universal corruption
 - 4.3 High level administrative corruption in India
 - 4.4 Corruption in public -private sector
- 5. Conclusion

Section-VII

STATUS OF CORRUPTION IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

- 1. Administrative corruption at the level of state and below
 - 1.1 Examples of corruption cases reported at the grass root level
 - 1.2 Examples of corruption cases reported involving state administration
- 2. Administrative corruption at the level of central government
 - 2.1 Example of cases reported involving central government administration
 - 2.2 Corruption cases reported in autonomous organizations
- 3. Conclusion and recommendations

Section -VIII

PLANNING AND DELIVERY OF HEALTH SERVICES IN INDIA

- 1. Present status of health services and government hospitals
- 2. Corruption in health services
- 3. Manpower planning and management of health services
- 4. Status of Indian Public Health Standards
- 5. Implementation of health insurance schemes
- 6. Planning and management of epidemics
- 7. Conclusion and recommendations- Health services
 - 7.1 General policy to improve delivery of health services in India
 - 7.2 Status of health sector and corruption
 - 7.3 Grass root level problems in health sector
 - 7.4 National medical commission (NMC), State medical council and NCAHP Act
 - 7.5 Status of medical colleges and medical graduates
 - 7.6 Integrated Child Development Scheme (ICDS) and Anganwadi workers

Section-IX

PLANNING AND MANAGEMENT OF EDUCATION SECTOR

- 1. National education policy program and future prospects
- 2. Management of primary and secondary education
 - 2.1 Present status of primary education
 - 2.2 Recruitment training and service conditions of teachers
 - 2.3 Inefficiency and corruption in school administration
- 3. Management of college and university education
 - 3.1 Present status of higher education
 - 3.2 Control and regulation of higher education
- 4. Planning and management of IIT and IIM
 - 4.1 Present status
 - 4.2 Problem of delayed graduation of IIT/IIM students
- 5. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 5.1 Inefficiency in management of school education
 - 5.2 General status of education sector
 - 5.3 Status of infrastructure for primary and higher secondary education
 - 5.4 The governance issues affecting higher education
 - 5.5 Flip flop on IIM's autonomy
 - 5.6 Appointment of faculty members or director in IITs
 - 5.7 Prevention of paper leak scam
 - 5.8 Online education through open and distance learning (ODL)

Section-X
PRESENT STATUS AND FUTURE OF CIVIL ADMINISTRATION IN INDIA

- 1. Review of public administration today
- 2. Changing role of civil administration after independence
- 3. Implementation of administrative reform suggested so far
 - 3.1 Civic governance as per National Human Development report-2001
 - 3.2 Achievement of Shri Atal Bihari Bajpayee government to promote good governance
 - 3.3 Administrative reform undertaken by UPA government to improve efficiency
 - 3.4 Proposals made by former civil servants to improve civic governance in India
- 4. Status of administrative laws and inefficiency in civil services
 - 4.1 Preview
 - 4.2 Sources of administrative laws
 - 4.3 Constitutional and administrative law in India
- 5. Status of recruitment training and service rules applicable to civil services
 - 5.1 Status of service rules for civil services
 - 5.2 Status of service rules for group A, B, C, D employees of the government
 - 5.3 Implementation of service rules applicable to all government employees
 - 5.4 Status of recruitment and training of civil servants
- 6. Status of inefficiency and corruption in civil services
 - 6.1 Preview
 - 6.2 Status of corruption cases reported against all category of government employees
 - 6.3 Status of corruption cases due to systemic failure of administration
- 7. Redressal of grievances of all government employees
- 8. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 8.1 Functioning of political and civil executives
 - 8.2 Administrative reform civil services and private sector
 - 8.3 Mismanagement of provident fund/Employees Provident Fund (EPF)
 - 8.4 Civic governance and delivery of corruption free public services to citizens

Section-XI
LAND REVENUE ACT AND CORRUPTION IN LAND TRANSFER

- 1. Status of land revenue Act and laws in various states
- 2. land records and encroachment on government and private land
- 3. Administrative corruption in management of private and government land
- 4. Conclusion and recommendations

Section - XII
WELFARE DEVELOPMENT AND DELIVERY OF PUBLIC SERVICES IN RURAL AREAS

- 1. Preview
- 2. Failure of Panchayati Raj till to date
- 3. Implementation of village development program
- 4. Delivery of common public services in rural areas
 - 4.1 Preview
 - 4.2 Housing safe drinking water and sanitation
 - 4.3 Food security and food for all
 - 4.4 Power supply for all
 - 4.5 Delivery of public service documents at doorstep

5. Common social welfare program for workers
 - 5.1 Building and other construction workers welfare board
 - 5.2 National food security Act
 - 5.3 Common ration card for workers in unorganized sector
 - 5.4 Prohibition policy and hooch tragedies
 - 5.5 Problem of human trafficking in India
 - 5.6 National health mission
6. Planning and implementation of welfare schemes drawn by government
 - 6.1 Welfare schemes drawn by government of India
 - 6.2 Parallel welfare schemes drawn by state governments
 - 6.3 Status of NREGS in rural areas
 - 6.4 Status of malnutrition and poverty
 - 6.5 Status of welfare program for disabled
 - 6.6 Status of insurance for all and regulatory authorities
 - 6.7 Status of scholarship schemes
 - 6.8 Status of labor welfare and child labor concerns
7. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 7.1 National data governance framework policy
 - 7.2 National data and analytic platform (NDAP)
 - 7.3 Digital India and rural development
 - 7.4 Inefficiency corruption and delivery of public services in rural areas
 - 7.5 Planning and implementation of welfare program for social security

Part - D
STATUS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES IN INDIA
Section-XIII
STATUS OF EXISTING LAWS AND
MECHANISM TO PREVENT CORRUPTION IN INDIA

1. Introduction
2. Central Vigilance Commission (CVC)
 - 2.1 Central Vigilance Commission Act, 2003
 - 2.2 Jurisdiction of Central Vigilance Commission
 - 2.3 Commission activities during -2016
 - 2.4 Non-compliance of Commission's advice and other areas of concern
3. Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI)
 - 3.1 Evolution of Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI)
 - 3.2 Definition of 'Beneficial Ownership' changed to strengthen PMLA
 - 3.3 CBI's action as part of global operation against drug trafficking
 - 3.4 Supreme court on the role and power of CBI, CVC and the state government
4. Directorate of Enforcement
 - 4.1 History of Enforcement Directorate
 - 4.2 Statutory functions of the Directorate of Enforcement
 - 4.3 Selected statistics and performance of ED
5. Internal audit and Controller General of Accounts (CGA)
6. Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG)
7. Conclusion and recommendations

- 7.1 Vigilance at the level of state and below
- 7.2 Review of the role, powers, functioning of CVC,CBI, ACB, Lok Ayukta etc. to check corruption in India
- 7.3 Importance of audit and ATR to check corruption in India

Section-XIV

STATUS OF JUDICIARY AND ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE IN INDIA

- 1. Preview of judicial system in India today
- 2. Administration of justice today
- 3. Status of pending cases in the court
 - 3.1 Current trend of cases disposed in the SC/HC and lower courts
 - 3.2 Government litigations in courts
 - 3.3 Steps taken by the government for expeditious settlement of pending cases in the court
- 4. Standard and accountability of judiciary Bill
 - 4.1 Appointment of judges in the SC/HC
 - 4.2 Service conditions of judges
 - 4.3 Corruption cases against judiciary
- 5. Procedural reform undertaken to improve justice system in the country
- 6. Role played by the Judiciary and the Bar to give historic judgement by the court
- 7. Conclusion and recommendations

Section-XV

STATUS OF LAWLESSNESS AND POLICING IN INDIA

- 1. Law and order in general as per NCRB of India
 - 1.1 Preview
 - 1.2 Status of crime as per NCRB report-2021
 - 1.3 Status of crime in various states
- 2. Existing laws to empower women and eliminate violence against women
 - 2.1 Introduction
 - 2.2 Data available about violence against women
 - 2.3 Existing laws of the land to protect the interest of the women
 - 2.4 National Commission for Women Act, 1990
- 3. Violence and protection of children under POCSO Act
- 4. Status of crime against SC/ST community
- 5. Policing against organized crime
- 6. Investigation of fast increasing cybercrimes in India
- 7. Status of crime related to sale and consumption of drugs etc.
- 8. Regulation for road safety and prevention of accidents
 - 8.1 Status of motor accidents in India
 - 8.2 Conclusion and recommendations
- 9. Existing status of Jail administration
 - 9.1 Status of existing occupancy in jails in the country
 - 9.2 Legal reform undertaken to improve jail administration
- 10. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 10.1 Introduction
 - 10.2 Performance of Indian Police Force
 - 10.3 Investigation of crime and action against criminals
 - 10.4 Status of existing laws and judicial intervention

- 10.5 Specialist police force to deal with cyber crime
- 10.6 Status of crime and corruption within police organization
- 10.7 Administrative reform to improve efficiency in police organization

Section-XVI

EXISTING LAWS AND MECHANISM TO PROTECT LAW ABIDING CITIZENS

- 1. National human rights commission
 - 1.1 Preview
 - 1.2 Enactment of protection of human rights Act,1993 in India
 - 1.3. Present status of human rights commission in India
- 2. Redressal of public grievances in India
 - 2.1 Public grievance redress mechanism in central government departments/organizations
 - 2.2 Status of grievance redressal mechanism, if any, at the level of state
 - 2.3 Redressal of public grievances by autonomous bodies
- 3. Right to Information Act, 2005
 - 3.1 Preview
 - 3.2 Present status of RTI in India
- 4. Anti- corruption ombudsman Lok Pal and Lok Ayukta
 - 4.1 Preview
 - 4.2 Lokpal and judicial intervention by the court
 - 4.3 Present status of Lok Ayukta in the state
- 5. Consumer protection Act
 - 5.1 Status of consumer cases in the country
 - 5.2 Examples of consumers claims decided in the recent past
 - 5.3 Regulation for the protection of consumers
- 6. Conclusion and recommendations

Part-E

MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE

Section-XVII

HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT FOR CORRUPTION FREE INDIA

- 1. Socio-economic indicators of India in 2023
- 2. HRD and expanding middle class in India
- 3. Job creation and job opportunities in India
- 4. Status of jobs in private and organized sector
- 5. Job for women tribal and poor population
 - 5.1 Job opportunities for women in India
 - 5.2 Economic development of tribal population
 - 5.3 Wages and security of women and domestic workers
- 6. Skill development to increase income and employment
- 7. Importance of MGNREGS for rural workers
- 8. Paper leak and recruitment scam in government sector
 - 8.1 State level paper leak and recruitment scam
 - 8.2 National level paper leak and recruitment scam
- 9. Conclusion and recommendations
 - 9.1 Political manifestoes and HRD
 - 9.2 HRD and multidimensional poverty
 - 9.3 Job creation and job opportunities in India
 - 9.4 Lower income group and HRD in India

- 9.5 Higher income group and HRD in India
- 9.6 Other factors affecting employment in various states of India
- 9.7 Role of education sector and HRD
- 9.8 Wastage or correct utilization of human resource for security and development
- 9.9 Role of religious places and HRD in India

Section-XVIII

STATUS OF DISASTER MANAGEMENT RELATED TO ENVIRONMENT FOREST AND CLIMATE CHANGE

- 1. Introduction
 - 1.1 Definitions
 - 1.2 Impact of biodiversity loss and climate change
- 2. Conservation of water and forest to prevent disaster
 - 2.1 Present status of Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980
 - 2.2 Existing water management and conservation plans
 - 2.3 Prevention of pollution in river Ganga etc.
 - 2.4 Prevention of forest fire for conservation of forests
- 3. National green tribunal to control illegal mining etc.
 - 3.1 Preview
 - 3.2 Enforcement of laws by National Green Tribunal
 - 3.3 Environmental issues and regulation of mining sector
- 4. Disaster management in the Himalayan region
 - 4.1 Preview
 - 4.2 Prevention and precaution against natural disaster
 - 4.3 Disaster management related to construction of roads tunnels and bridges
 - 4.4 Disaster due to floods and landslides in the Himalayan region
- 5. Disaster and pollution free development of urban India
 - 5.1 Present status and future of urban development in India
 - 5.2 Present status and performance of local bodies or municipal corporations
 - 5.3 Status of safety precautions and prevention of fire hazards in urban India
 - 5.4 Status of pollution control waste management and urban development
 - 5.5 Administrative reform within municipal corporations
- 6. Future shocks due to climate change and global warming
 - 6.1 Introduction
 - 6.2 Global emergency of climate change and progress made so far by COPs
 - 6.3 Climate change and citizen's right
 - 6.4 Impact of climate change in the Indian sub-continent
- 7. Conclusion and recommendations

Part-F

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY OF FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

EVALUATION OF THE DRAFT RESEARCH STUDY PROJECT REPORT AS ON 1.11.2024

Visit website: www.chideradun.com

This is the first ever in-depth and most comprehensive research study project ever undertaken by any individual or institute which is purely empirical based on factual information about governance with personal experience of public administration and experiment in delivery of public services to all category of citizen at the grass root level both in urban and in rural (real) India. The conceptual framework of the research study project has been broadly narrated in the preamble stated above.

Instead of routine research papers or story on a particular incident of corruption, holistic approach has been adopted to study the existing status of political, economic and civic governance in India today at all level and in all branches/sectors of the government with particular reference to present status of structure, composition, role, manpower management, level of performance/ efficiency as per rules/procedure, if any, laid down and capacity to deliver public services to all category of citizens with or without corruption.

The study project has used all relevant information and data which has been in public domain during last 30-40 years for study and analyses to complete the project and suggest action plan to reestablish corruption free governance with sharp focus on corrupt practices reported and known in each sector/department of the government. Accordingly, the study project has been able to identify the impact of corruption which had adversely affected the efficiency of public administration to deliver the public services to the citizens of the country without corruption at all level.

On completion, the study project report is likely to be used as an ‘Encyclopedia’ on the status of governance in India today and serve as a guidebook in future for all responsible citizens who are part of the government and members of the civil society to make India corruption free after 75 years of independence. The study project aims to help people in power to ensure first class political, economic and civic governance for the people in a democratic and a welfare state like India through existing parliamentary democracy and in accordance to the constitution of India.

The summary of final conclusion and necessary recommendations will be recorded in the end (Part-F) with particular reference to structural, functional, and legal reform to make all sectors/branches of the government including law enforcement authorities i.e. judiciary, police and vigilance departments more efficient and effective to ensure corruption free governance in accordance to existing laws and the constitution of the country.

The outcome of this research study project expected to educate the citizens about the scale and volume of corruption prevailing in the country in all walks of life today and to what extent it can harm the very existence of the country in future. Once the people are informed about the activities of the people in power- then those responsible for political, economic, civic and corporate governance can be made accountable and answerable. The importance of strict anti-corruption laws can be understood in correct perspective and the offenders can be punished severely through the court of law and black listed to hold any public office in future.

It is proposed to bring out revised and an updated edition of this project after every six months (1 January and 1 July) till such time we are able to see visible improvement in corruption free political, economic and civic governance in India. Those interested to become part of this mission undertaken by CHI, can send their comments or suggestions by email to: trishul_p1@rediffmail.com Copy of the first edition of the study project report is proposed to be uploaded on our website on 1 January,2025. -Director& Research Scholar CHI Dehradun

BIBLIOGRAPHY/REFERENCES

1. An article titled 'Was Churchill Right?' by Khushwant Singh published in 'Newsweek' on 3 June, 1991. (Section-I up to Srl.4)
2. Ten key amendments that shaped India by Sengupta, Research Director Vidhi Center for Legal policy published in ToI on 14 August, 20
3. An article titled 'Governors and Speakers' by Dhananjay Mahapatra@timesgroup.com
4. Our constitution is not just past perfect, its present continuous by D Shyam Babu Senior fellow Center for Policy Research
5. Lessor-known aspects of the constitution by Vidhi Center for Legal Policy, ToI August 21, 2022 (Section-II up to Srl. 30)
6. National Human Development Report-2001
7. President Droupadi Murmu speech on 74th Republic Day
8. CJI D Y Chandrachud speech during first convocation ceremony of Maharashtra National Law University Nagpur
9. Memorandum on Center State relations by late CM Jyoti Basu of West Bengal
10. Federal issues in Indian polity by P R Dubhashi- Main Stream June, 2012
11. Inter-state River Water disputes Bill
12. NCW by Mohini Giri, Padma Seth and Syeda Hammed, former members of NCW
13. India does not need a national language by Gurcharan das
14. Divide and develop smaller states by Prabhu Chawala
15. Oppression of SC/ST by upper caste a depressing reality by Dhanajay Mahapatra@ times group.com
16. Speech by CJI D Y Chandrachud on 'Importance of free media for healthy and functional democracy
17. Democracy, development and India's struggle against corruption by Rob Jenkins, University of london
18. The most powerful safeguards by Abhishek Singhvi, Senior Advocate SC
19. Political and not constitutional by Fali S Nariman, Senior Advocate SC
20. Reducing states to municipalities by P Chidambaram, Senior Advocate SC
21. Beyond Article 370 by Amitabh Mattoo, Professor JNU
22. The only castes that matter by Bhupeder Yadav, Minister of Environment etc. GoI
23. Caste still resilient by Arnab Chandrasekhar, IE 26 November, 2023
24. Demography democracy and diversity by Priyanka Chaturvedi MP Rajya Sabha
25. A moral failure by Hilal Ahmed, Professor CSDS New Delhi
26. A new echo system by Subas Palshikar
27. Caught in the muddle, India Today November 29,2023
28. The code of uniform, India Today February 19,2024
29. Bharat versus India by Kai Friese, India Today September 25, 2023
30. Anti-corruption politics versus Democratic Deepening and Welfare in India by Amit Ahuja, University of California Santa Barbara
31. Association of Democratic Reforms (ADR) report-FY 2021-22 (Section-III up to Srl. 46)
32. India Today- March 4,2024
33. Representation of people Act
34. Report by Parliamentary Standing committee on law and justice
35. How to make election commission credible by S Y Quraishi
36. Express view on Election Commission Bill
37. One nation one election plan by M Venkaiah Naidu
38. Election funding by India Today March 24,2024
39. Analysis of donations received by National political parties (FY-2021-22) by ADR, New delhi

40. Assam delimitation by India Today, July 10,2023
41. How Indian households spend by MG Arun, India Today March 11, 2024 (Section-IV)
42. Acharya natural farming by Jumana Shah, India Today January 29, 2024
43. Mission zero complaints by Avishek G Dastidar, India Today October 23, 2023
44. The hunger challenge by Ashok Gulati, Indian Express, August 21,2023
45. Cultivating the farmer by Anilesh S Mahajan, India Today November 20, 2023
46. State level finances by Udit Misra, September 5, 2003
47. Will the growth sustain by M G Arun, India Today June 19,2023 (Section-V up to Srl. 50)
48. In a wilful muddle by Nilanjan Das, India Today July 10, 2023
49. The engineer of graft by Amitabh Srivastava, India Today May 22, 2023
50. Fact and FICN (Fake Indian Currency Notes) by Amitabh Srivastava India Today June 19,2023
51. Corruption as a way of life (2014) An old problem taking new dimensions by Meet & Laxminarayan, International Journal of research (Section-VI up to Srl. 59)
52. Transparency International – India’s Corruption Perceptions Index-2020
53. Corruption and development: A review of issues by Pranab Bardhan, University of California at Barkeley
54. Corruption–Causes and consequences by Stefan Sumah
<http://dx.doi.org/10.5772/intechopen.72953>
55. Corruption free India: A national dream by Palwinder Kaur
56. Corruption: Political and public aspects, 2001 International Encyclopedia of Social and Behavioral Sciences
57. Assessment of corruption in India by Vimal Sharma and Dr Prem Mehta (2003) www.ijrssh.com
58. Battling India’s malaise of corruption- An address to the India CEO forum
59. Corruption and black money in India by Mahfooz Alam , Research Scholar Aligarh University
60. How will you be tomorrow by Sonali Acharjee, India Today, August 21, 2023 (Section-VIII up to Srl. 61)
61. On UP government radar: 200 ailing health center, IE October 26, 2023
62. A meeting of great minds by India Today August 7, 2023 (Section IX up to Srl. 63)
63. Foreign education: Abroad spectrum by India Today July 17, 2023
64. Special report IIT suicides by India Today May 29, 2023 (Section-X up to Srl. 91)
65. Cartoon dated May 9, 1953- Public administration as an art or science
66. Pitroda’s stress on administrative reform as reported in the media
67. An article titled ‘ Policy planning in India ’ by K Subrahmanyam
68. An article titled ‘ Make way for new public administration by Sauvik Chakraverti
69. An article titled ‘ Wholesale privatization is not the answer’ by Jorge Heine
70. An article titled ‘ Babu -led model won’t work’ by Manoj Joshi
71. Civic Governance- An extract from National Human Development Report-2001
72. An article titled ‘ The way to efficient administration’ by Abhishek Dayal, PIB
73. An extract from an interview of former Cabinet Secretary B K Chaturvedi
74. An article titled ‘Rules for a civil service’ by former Cabinet Secretary K M Chandrasekhar
75. Extract of Law cases pertaining to service matters decided during the year -2000

76. An article titled 'Rescue the nation' by Chetan Bhagat published in TOI on 19 May, 2012
77. An article titled 'Has IAS failed the nation' by former RBI governor D Subbarao
78. An article titled 'Bureaucracy bristles with corruption' by Lindsay Barnes (The author is a Britisher who lives in Bihar)
79. Cover story titled 'Panchayati Raj -Accountable and powerless' published in Down to Earth on 31 Jan, 2007
80. An article titled 'Giving data its due' by Parameswaran Iyer CEO of NITI Aayog
81. Bureaucrats have not failed, but they can do better by Amarjeet Sinha, Retd. Civil Servant
82. Constitution and administrative law in India by D Y Chandrachud, former CJI of India
83. Source of administrative law: Constitution of India
84. Government cases clogging courts and national litigation policy by Delhi High Court
85. Undue benefits to contractors in Ayodhya development project: CAG
86. Findings of Administrative Reform Commission of Uttarakhand-2006
87. An article titled "Rescue the nation' by Chetan Bhagat published in ToI on 19 May,2012
88. An article titled 'Has IAS failed the nation' by former RBI governor D Subbarao
89. An article titled 'Bureaucracy bristles with corruption' by Lindsay Barnes (the author lives in Bihar)
90. Cover story "Panchayati Raj- Accountable and powerless published in Down to Earth on 31 Jan, 2007
91. An article titled "Giving data its due' by Parameswaran Iyer CEO NITI Aayog
- 92. Economic governance at the state level: Extract from 'Poverty Planning and Development' by the author of this project(2008) (Section-XII up to Srl. 101)
93. Portrait of a family in Rajasthan, Indian Express November 25, 2023
94. Welfare state (Rajasthan) by Rohit Parihar, India Today August 21, 2023
95. No farewell to welfare (Congress manifestoes), India Today October 30, 2023
96. Code for public good, India Today August 28, 2023
97. Panchayati Raj Institutions: Extract from "Poverty Planning and Development' by the author of this project (2008)
98. Accountable and powerless (PRI) by Down to Earth, January 31, 2007
99. Connecting India's villages by India Today August 28, 2023
100. Rural development and Panchayati Raj by Amarnath K .Menon, India Today, June 12, 2023
101. Women and Child Development by India Today June 12, 2023
- 102. Control of corruption in India: A socio-legal challenge by Dr Shashi Nath Mandal <http://www.ijasrw> August 2018 (Section-XIII up toSrl. 109)
103. Central Vigilance Commission Report-2016
104. National Crime Reports Bureau (NCRB) Crimes in India-2015 (Section-XV)
105. Gehlot cracks down on crime by India Today May 15, 2023
106. Online fraud a regaging menace by India Today October 30, 2023
107. Slow lane to the scrap yard by Avishek G. Dastidar India Today January 22,2024
- 108.The need for independent police complaints authorities in India by Daksha Sachdeva Research Scholar Jindal Global Law School July 29,2023
- 109.The police versus NIA by Rahul Naronha India Today December 11, 2023

110. The law to protect human rights in India by P D Mathew Indian Social Institute, New Delhi
(Section -XVI up to Srl. 113)
111. Human rights for peace, Declaration by the Director General UNESCO
112. Right to Information Act, 2005 by Suchi Pande and Shekhar Singh (2007)
113. Who are Delhi's migrant workers, Lokniti CSDS study report by Mallica Joshi October 4, 2023 (Section-XVII up to Srl. 121)
114. An article titled 'The Great Job Hunt' by Raghuram Rajan and others published in ToI on December 7, 2022.
115. An article titled 'What India will look like after 23 years' by Atul Thakur published in ToI on January 1, 2023.
116. An article titled 'High growth -But do more' by Raghuram Rajan and others published in TOI on January 4, 2023.
117. An article titled 'Greatly expanding Indian middle class' by Rajesh Shukla published in TOI on January 11, 2023.
118. An article titled 'Huge work force, young population' by Atul Thakur published in TOI on February 3, 2023.
119. An article titled 'India keeps reducing poverty, but job's got tougher of late' by Atul Thakur published in TOI.
120. An article titled 'How India fails Bharat' by Shweta Punj published in India Today on July 20, 2015.
121. An article titled 'Broken India or Broken Logic' by Surjit S. Bhalla published in TOI on May 1, 2023.
122. Forest conservation Act by Rahul Naronha, India Today August 14, 2023 (Section-XVIII up to Srl. 129)
123. Concrete versus jungle by Rohit Parihar, India Today July 10, 2023
124. New perils of smog by Sonali Acharjee India Today December 11, 2023
125. River-city alliance by G Ashok Kumar, DG National mission for clean Ganga
126. The seeds of hope by Jeemon Jacob, India Today January 29, 2024
127. The new danger zones by Avishek G. Dastidar India Today November 27, 2023
128. Himalayan Wonder by Avishek G. Dastidar January 8, 2024
129. The great Indian rescue by Avishek G. Dastidar December 11, 2023
130. Corruption in India- Wikipedia containing result of study report conducted by Transparency International in 2005-2020 (Common to all parts of the project up to Srl. 141)
131. Corruption, causes and consequences by Stefan Sumah-
<http://dx.doi.org/10.5772/intechopen.72953>
132. Corruption in India by N.Vittal (Retd. CVC) – 2003
133. Indian/State Administrative Services and problems of District Administration (1952)
134. The Administrative Reform Commission (1966-1970)
135. Our Constitution by Subhash C. Kashyap (1994)
136. Our Political System by Subhash C. Kashyap (2009)
137. Public Administration by Padma Ramachandran (1995)
138. Public Administration: Vision and Reality, (1997) by IIPA New Delhi
139. From Government to Governance by Kuldeep Mathur (2008)
140. Panchayati Raj in India by M. Aslam (2007)

141.100 Years history of Indian administration by Dr A K Verma published in Dainik Jagran (Hindi) on November 28,1999

Note: Bibliography will be updated for each part of this study project report as and when revised in future and the revised edition of the study project will be uploaded on this website for the comments of readers and experts before revised edition is released on 1 January and 1 July every year.